PRESENTATION TOPICS

Play Your Way to Productivity and Innovation: 5 Secrets of an Accidental Neuroscientist – Is your ability to think creatively and respond quickly to change something you’re born with or something you can learn? Neuroplasticity is about creativity, curiosity, and adaptation. In this keynote, Ann reveals her 5-step formula for incorporating play and humor into work and life, making neuroplasticity a “no-brainer.” For businesses, academic, or professional organizations.

Your Brain Is Your Brand – Brain power is your company’s greatest asset. Many companies spend millions on building their brand, but do little to nurture it from the inside out. What do all the recent studies showing the effects of sleep deprivation and diet mean in terms of your business or academic success? Ann shares neuroscientific research and simple techniques to keep your brain (and your brand) healthy. For business and academic audiences.

Rewiring Your Brain For Better... (customized for your audience) –

Do you believe your workforce has more to offer than they realize? Are your sales, customer service, or leadership people stuck? Have they lost their sense of connection and excitement? Let Ann show you how opening new possibilities in cognition creates better teamwork, productivity, and a more connected workforce. For business audiences.

Using the ingenuity she discovered after a traumatic brain injury, along with three decades as a corporate communicator, business owner, social media expert, and teacher, Ann challenges conventional ideas about intelligence, self care, and creativity.

Ann’s two TEDx talks How a Brain Injury Made Me Smarter and How Being Unsafe Makes You Smarter and numerous keynote addresses in business, academia, and professional organizations not only inspire personal growth, but open the door for greater productivity, innovation, and teamwork.
